

MAGIC, RITUAL, AND WITCHCRAFT: Instructions for Authors

A rigorously peer-reviewed scholarly journal, Magic, Ritual, and Witchcraft draws from a broad spectrum of perspectives, methods, and disciplines, offering the widest possible geographical scope and chronological range, from prehistory to the modern era and from the Old World to the New. Please follow the guidelines given here when submitting or revising your article for publication. Manuscripts for submission should be prepared according to The Chicago Manual of Style, 15th edition. The editors reserve the right to make editorial revisions in articles and reviews.

GENERAL OVERVIEW

- Manuscripts should run approximately 8,000 words, excluding notes and documentation, though both longer and shorter pieces are considered on their merits.
- The primary language of all articles and reviews is English. Spelling, punctuation, use of decimals, and other conventions should follow American standards.
- No part of the submitted manuscript can have appeared in print in another journal or elsewhere. If you have published a piece in another language and wish to submit an English translation to MRW you are responsible for taking care of all necessary permissions.
- We consider digital submissions only; please format your piece according to the guidelines below.
- If you would like to review a particular book for MRW, or have an idea for a review essay, please first contact book review editors at mrweditors@rice.edu who will determine its appropriateness.

To submit a manuscript with abstract and keywords, please use this link to our online submission manager to send your manuscript for consideration in Microsoft Word.

SPECIFIC SUBMISSION GUIDELINES

- The author's name and address (postal and email) should appear only on a title page sent as a separate file. The title should also appear on the first page of the text.
- Authors are requested to supply an abstract between 150-200 words in the same file as the title page, along with a list of 10 to 20 keywords.
- The text, including quotations and notes, should be double-spaced and unjustified. Use a standard font, such as Times New Roman, and please keep formatting simple and minimal.
- Notes should be numbered consecutively, double spaced, and placed as endnotes, though they will be published at the foot of each page.

ILLUSTRATIONS

We encourage the use of illustrations and can accept 300 dpi TIFF files. Line art should be supplied as 1200 dpi EPS files. Supply each illustration with a caption, accompanied by a source line and such acknowledgments as are required. Authors are expected to obtain permission to reproduce any copyrighted materials.
